

SAVANNAH RIVERBOAT CRUISES

THE NEW GEORGIA QUEEN

introducing the new GEORGIA QUEEN

.....

.....

Built in 1995 as a luxury floating casino on the Mississippi River, at a cost of 14 million dollars, this 1800s majestic paddlewheel-style riverboat spent many years traveling the Mississippi River. After gambling legislations changed, allowing for land-based casinos to open, the riverboat would undergo a 4 million dollar make-over taking on a new face of the grandest riverboat dinner cruise ship.

The Georgia Queen will make a long journey leaving behind her once home and travel 2,800 miles down the Mississippi River, across the Gulf of Mexico, down and around the shorelines of Florida and Key West to call Savannah her new home. This spectacular paddlewheel-style riverboat will be joining the Savannah River Queen as her grand sister ship — The Georgia Queen!

Georgia Queen

The Georgia Queen has returned to being the largest and grandest riverboat of its kind in the United States and is among the top elite in the country. The Georgia Queen measures an impressive 230 ft long, 64 ft wide and a towering 68ft tall and features 3 grand ballrooms with over 15,000 sq/ft of dining space, a 5,000+ sq/ft fully open-air, top deck with patio seating and encompasses a total of 38,000 sq/ft. She can carry 1,000 passengers plus 200 crew; which makes her the size of a small cruise ship.

The Georgia Queen boasts an exquisite, multi-deck, fully equipped gourmet kitchen that will be directed by Savannah Riverboat Cruises' Executive Chef and his culinary staff.

This elite kitchen is also equipped with a large service elevator, making traveling between galleys discrete and easy. The onboard kitchen facility will change the entire dining experience for guests and will allow for more plated dinner opportunities and flexibility in menu items.

Three GRAND BALLROOMS

The Georgia Queen's 3 grand ballrooms are spacious and beautifully designed with an incredible seating capacity of 250 guests. Each with a charming starlit curtain draped stage for entertainment and a roomy wooden dance floor. Enormous crystal chandeliers and gorgeous marble inspired columns enhance the elegance and richness of each ballroom. Stunning fully equipped bars on each floor come at no surprise for this ship, nothing falls short of impressive! The 2nd deck ballroom has an off-set private parlor room that will be perfect for smaller groups that would like to charter a private space. The Georgia Queen makes traveling between the 1st and 3rd floors easy for guests with a passenger elevator located at the bow of the ship where they will board. Guests can choose to take the elevator or walk up the grand entry staircase to each ballroom. The Georgia Queen's top-deck has a sprawling 5,000+ square feet of open air patio space perfect for sightseeing and enjoying the refreshing river breezes. Top deck Sunset Cruises will surely delight guests with an a-la-cart specialty menu, live entertainment and breathtaking sunsets while they relax on patio style seating.
